MOVIE WORKER DENIES RED TIE

Composer Tells Inquiry He "Dropped Out" of Communist Party.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Hanns Eisler, 54-year-old Hollywood composer, acknowledged to a house committee today he once applied for Communist party membership but declared he was never active in party work and 'dropped out'

Eisler was the first witness as the house committee on un-American activities opened an inquiry into the question whether alien Communists have been permitted to stay in this country illegally.

Before the hearings began, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) told reporters the house group has evidence that top rung government officials have winked at Communist sojourns in the United States

Eisler, German-born came to the United States in 1935 and has never become a citizen.

Present in the committee room as Eisler testified were Sumner Welles, former under secretary of state, and George Messersmith, former ambassador to Argentina Committee aides told reporters both have been subpoenaed as witnesses

Eisler gave copies of a statement to reporters. It described the hearing as 'both sinister and ridiculous," said Eisler would be delighted to lecture on musical topics" to the committee but was not qualified to speak on other matters, and concluded by saying, the committee is following the course "Hitler and Mussolini tried'

Eisler is a brotner of Gerhart Eisler who recently was convicted of passport fraud and contempt of the Thomas committee. The committee has labeled Gerhart Eisler as the "supreme" Communist authority in this country

U. S. Official Asks Banks To Help Curb Dangerous Inflation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Comptroller of the Currency Preston Delano said today "we are in the full swing of a postwar inflation which is severe and dangerous' and appealed to the nation's banks to help put on the brakes

As supervisor of the national banking system, Delano urged state banking commissioners to discourage "dangerous credit practices" by the 9,500 institutions which they oversee. He added.

"We can use our influence and all our persuasive powers to prevent an undue expans on of credit in those fields which contribute heavily toward a continuation of this inflation spiral in which we are caught and which has woven its web around us"

Delano's remarks were made to a convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks.

Thomas W. Leggett, president of the association also called for a tightening of credit, asserting that the "wild speculator and the undercapitalized promoter" will be wiped out "when supply and demand come nearer together, which they are sure to do."

Taft Predicts Heckling Acts Will Help G. O. P. Win in 1948

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Sept 24—A snarling, heckling demonstration, blamed by a GOP leader on "Communists" prompted Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to predict today such protest methods would "help the Republicans win the next election"

Ignoring those of his listeners who booed lustily his defense of the Taft-Hartley labor act, the Ohio senator called today for a reduction in taxes to help cut the high cost of living

Keeping a bandaged left hand carefully at his side, Taft returned to a discussion of major political issues after an unruly meeting last night in which the small minority of an audience overflowing a 2,100-seat auditorium noisily walked out during the senator's denunciation of labor leaders who have criticized the new law.

As the departing hecklers shouted "We've had enough," Taft, his face grim replied loudly 'The whole propaganda against the Taft-Hartley act relies on attempts to silence the arguments in favor of that act'

The audience, preponderantly Republican, drowned in resounding cheers the booing and the cat-calls of those who were departing

Previously Taft had been injured in the confusion of a rail station demonstration. Wilbur Zurdel, president of the Young Mens Republican club, had said 'could only have been put on by Communists"

As placard-bearing picketers mingled with cheering admirers of the Ohio senator, a nervous driver slammed a car door on Tafts left hand. Dr Donald T Hall, a relative by marriage, said after sewing six stitches in Taft's hand the wound would leave no permanent injury

The mishap occurred when the Ohio senator ordered the car stopped to take aboard Rep Homer R Jones (R-Wash), who voted against the Taft-Hartley bill. Last year Jones defeated former Rep Hugh De Lacy, Democrat who led the railroad station picketers

National Housing Council Meets for First Time

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Officials of the new national housing council meet for the first time today to discuss ways of relieving the housing shortage.

The council is a part of the federal housing and home finance agency set up by President Truman in a reorganization plan approved by the last congress.

It is headed by Raymond M. Foley, agency administrator, and includes representatives of the principal housing bureaus and of the secretary of agriculture, the veterans administrator and the reconstruction finance corporation.

Foley said one of the principal aims of the council will be to help industry bring down building costs, although the group has no power to force them down.

"The cost of producing housing remains a number one proolem," he said. "It is necessary that overall costs be reduced as related to the ability of the mass of the people to pay."

By The Associated Press

Rising wage and farm incomes were credited with contributing increase in incomes, which were at a record annual rate of $197,000,000,000 in July, latest month for which figures are available.

STRANDED COUPLE HELD AT MT. GILEAD

Found Broke and Hungry in Car Along Road.

A 24-year-old man and his companion, an 18-year-old girl, both of Ray, Ill., are held by the Morrow county sheriff's department, awaiting a checkup on the pair by Illinois officials, after they had been picked up around 8 o'clock last night, in their parked car, three and one-half miles east of Caledonia.

Hungry and without funds the two were taken into custody by Sheriff Tom England and the state highway department, following a telephone call from a farm home in the vicinity. They had spent the previous night and yesterday in their car parked on the side of the road near a tract of woods, and their food consisted of raw field corn, they told Sheriff England. They gave their names as Lyle Edward Curtis and Eva Lorraine Clem.

They ran out of funds shortly after leaving Ray, three or four days ago, they told the officer. The car belongs to Curtis, an ex-service man, who told the sheriff he spent some time with the armed forces in Germany. Both are being held at the county jail.

CIO RIDICULES PRICE HEARING

Says Cleveland Session "Window Dressing" with Verdict Already Decided.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24—CIO witnesses were summoned again today to a congressional price hearing already described by the union's Ohio counsel as "purely window dressing"

The attorney, Jacob Clayman, made the accusation yesterday in testimony before the midwest subcommittee on the committee on the economic report

In a blunt preface, he asserted the subcommittee in a preliminary research report issued last week had "prejudged the life and death issues involved in the current skyrocketing cost of living"

This was denied by Rep George H Bender (R-Ohio), committee chairman

Demand Special Session

The bulk of opening-day witnesses represented consumers and labor organizations and most of them demanded a special session of congress to re-establish prices at levels existing when OPA was abolished last year

Clayman declared the role victims of high prices were "the workers" and said they "already are being charged with being responsible for them"

The committee's preliminary report, however, "gave a clean bill of health to big business, the manufacturer, farmer, wholesaler and retailer" he said

High prices, he added, "don't come because of economic necessity, but because of a political decision—and they can be lowered again by another political decision"

Clayman warned the country "is on the threshold of another depression" and said congress had not yet "lifted a finger to avoid it."

Makes 4 Requests

Declaring that big business interests had embarked on a "charge what the traffic will bear" program, the witness asked congress to

1 Place a ceiling on excess profits made by monopolistic corporations.

2 Re-establish price controls at a reasonable level.

3. Restore rationing where scarcities are acute.

4 Pass anti-monopoly legislation to avert another depression and provide congressional leadership on prices.

Another CIO witness, A. E. Stevenson, secretary of the Cleveland CIO council, agreed with Clayman that income taxes should be eliminated for families receiving less than $5,000 annually.

1,100,000 Japs Made Homeless by Floods

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Sept. 24—The home ministry reported officially today that more than 1,100,000 persons were made homeless by disastrous floods which swept last week over much of northern Honshu.

Most of the homeless, the ministry said, had begun constructing temporary villages atop river levees and on patches of high ground to wait out the slow seepage of water. Other reports indicate the villages of rough shacks were complete with black markets and gangs of "flood pirates" who looted inundated homes.

In the lates revision of its official figures, the ministry said 999 persons died, 984 were missing and 1,616 were injured in the floods. The incomplete reports listed 1,182,878 made homeless when 415,211 homes were destroyed or inundated.

Cub Player Nearly Spiked — 12 Miles From Home Plate

Bob Shuford, Cub right fielder, was nearly spiked yesterday—12 miles from home plate. And by a rattlesnake, at that.

He and several Cub buddies, John Edington, Melvin Nelson, Gene Bobzean, and Nelson Burbrink, were out learning the art of squirrel hunting from Leonard Green, proprietor of the C. and G. Sporting Goods store, when Shuford just missed sliding into the forked tongue of a baby diamond back out to score his first strike in the minors.

They sent the rattler to the showers and went on to bag eight or nine squirrels on the John Roczman farm 12 miles west of Marion.

The single button on the safe side of the eight-inch rattler now vibrates from inside a bottle in the C. and G. show window.

Rattlesnakes are scarce in this vicinity, says Green.

Condition of 4 Hurt in Crash Remains Critical

The condition of the four Marion persons injured in the Saturday night auto crash at Caledonia remains "precarious" it was reported at City hospital today.

One of the two more seriously injured, Duane Herron, still has not regained consciousness since the crash. A brain operation was performed Sunday night by a Columbus surgeon. The boy's condition is still critical.

Also critical is the condition of Charles Rentschler who suffered fractures of the skull, jaw, left leg and internal injuries.

The condition of George Henry McCloskey, driver of the car, and Earl Foster, the fourth Cash victim, is likewise reported "precarious."

Visitors have been restricted to members of the immediate families only. Officials investigating the accident are holding up questioning the youths until their condition permits.

RUSSIA BACKED TO WALL IN UN

Faces Defeat on Every Issue in Assembly Where Veto Is Not Permitted.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 24—Battered and beaten by a majority which no veto could block, Russia found herself today in a weak minority position in her contest with the United States for leadership in the United Nations assembly.

A series of assembly test votes produced that result. Overwhelming majorities crushed Soviet opposition and placed firmly on the assembly's agenda for this session the American-sponsored issue of Greece, Korea and a new veto-free security agency.

Similarly, on an Argentine proposal supported by the United States for revision of the Italian peace treaty, the assembly voted to put the question on the agenda for future full consideration despite the fact Russia objected and Britain and France took a hands-off attitude.

Diplomatic authorities said the meaning of the votes was highly important for the rest of this session. They predicted Russia would gain little support for her resolution to condemn alleged warmongering in the United States but the United States could put over easily its program for action by the assembly in the face of Russian protests.

Barring some unexpected development, it appeared the split in the United Nations has gone about as far as it can go for the time being. Still a matter of high priority speculation among diplomats however, is the possibility after the United States wins its expected assembly victory the Russians may decline to cooperate either with the projected new security agency or the special Greek border agency which Secretary of State Marshall has proposed.

The assembly completed yesterday both the week-long general debate, which saw the lines of showdown between America and Russia clearly drawn, and the approval of the 61-item agenda covering the subjects it will discuss and the decisions it may make the rest of this session.

CALL MEETING FOR TONIGHT AT PROSPECT

Sheriff's Office Continues To Check Leads But Says Clues Not Promising.

By W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

Search for Rose Ann Green, 16 missing Prospect High school sophomore, was continuing today, despite what investigators of the sheriff's office termed a lack of promising clues.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar Fink this morning said "we still have a number of angles to check that have developed recently." He also said a recheck would be made of all the known facts in the case in an effort to turn up some clue that possibly might have been overlooked.

Deputy Fink declined to say that the investigation has hit a blank wall.

Although Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and his three deputies, M. F. Baldwin, Raymond LaMonte and Fink have devoted their full time to the search since Rose disappeared last Friday night they still have been unable to turn up the one important clue—where is the girl?

The search now is in its fifth day and at about 7:30 tonight Rose will have been missing 120 hours.

Area Search Stopped

Search of the area surrounding the Green home on the Liner road four miles east of Prospect by air and ground posses has been discontinued. None of the searches that took three planes over the area yesterday and about 300 men on foot Sunday developed a clue of any nature.

Today citizens of Prospect and community were turning their attention to completion of plans for offering a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the girl's abductor.

C. O. Lauchur, Prospect C. and O. station agent, and Dale Sparks, Prospect grocer, have called a meeting for tonight at the office of the Prospect Monitor. They hope to complete formation of the committee and to draft full plans for making a public solicitation of reward funds. They also expect to set the amount to be sought.

Legal Provisions Considered

Mr. Sparks already has considered legal angles of the reward offer with Prosecuting Attorney James E. Reed. Leaders of the drive today were considering asking Rev. S. C. Long of Waldo to attend the meeting. Rev. Long last month headed a Waldo committee that in a day's time raised nearly $4,000 as a reward in the case of missing Carolyn Peterson, 20-month-old child who was found after a four-day search.

Today at the Green home the father, Carl E. Green, and the stepmother, Mrs. Dorothy Green, still are waiting hopefully for some word from the missing girl.

Detectives Offer Aid

For several days they have watched for the arrival of the rural mail carrier, hoping some word would come from Roxie. The mail delivery about 10:30 o'clock this morning, however, brought only an offer from a Cleveland private investigator to enter the case.

Another private dectective from Columbus called at the Green home yesterday to inquire into the case., Mr. Green said today, however, that he believed everything possible was being done through regular channels.

It was considered probable that the Cleveland investigator became interested after a Cleveland airport angle was injected into the case about noon yesterday.

An airline passenger enroute from Cleveland to Chicago reported to the pilot and stewardess of the plane that she had seen a girl in the airport ladies' room who resembled a picture of Roxie appearing in a morning newspaper.

The informant, Mrs. Roscoe Terry of Westlake, O., and Chicago, Ill., said the girl she saw was asleep on two chairs, and she was barefooted and that her legs were scratched and muddy.

Puzzling Circumstances

Mr. Green speculated this morning that if the girl was Roxie she might have awakened and left the building before the radio message from the plane came back to the airport. He could find no explanation, however, for the fact that apparently no one else at the airport saw anyone answering the description given by Mrs. Terry.

Mr. Green indicated today he was wavering somewhat in his previous belief Roxie would be found alive.

"I don't know how she will be found," he said. "My wife still thinks she will be found all right

Forecaster Denies Snug Shoes, Corns Are Chief Instruments

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Four hundred and seventy-five of the world's most insulted men, butts of the worst jokes and recipients of the snarlingest complaints, are in town to talk over their troubles in four languages.

Poor devils. I mean the International Weather Forecasters, meteorologists from 43 countries holding forth behind a barricade of pyrheliometers, integrating potentiometers, recording illuminometers, radio sondes, spectroscopic hygrometers, electronic rocket trackers and other widgets as complicated as their names.

I don't suppose there is any more pitiful sight than a weather man about to be interviewed by a newspaper reporter. There is terror in his eye and a tremor in his hands, because he knows what is coming. But the sessions inside must have been a little dull, because a brave, grave, gray-haired American forecaster came outside to sneak a cigaret. He was leaning against "a ceilometer—which shines a light straight up and automatically measures how high the clouds are—and he braced himself for the worst. I shook his dampish hand.

"Now about this thunderstorm which hit Washington last Thursday when it was supposed to be fair and warmer," I began.

He winced. He said the weather bureau was a little embarrassed about that one, but it snuck up on the trick machinery. I said was all the fancy apparatus much use to a practicing weather man?

"Are you intending to quote me?" he asked.

I told him that wild horses, maddened by an electrical storm, never would drag his name from me. He smiled then and he said that a plain old-fashioned barometer was about the most useful item the weather man has.

"How about corns?" I asked.

When they hurt, he said, they're an indication of dampness, all right, but they do not give accurate data and no self-respecting weather man will admit he depends on them, or that he wears tight shoes on purpose.

So I relented and asked no more hateful questions. He appreciated this and he gave me some inside dope on the weather man's problems, aside from the bad jokes.

Take dry ice which causes rain when sprinkled on clouds. The weather bureau is worried about being sued for manufacturing rain to fall on people who don't want it.

"I don't suppose we will ever lick this problem until we can produce square-shaped showers," he said.

He then showed me the radio sonde, which is an automatic broadcasting station hitched to a big white balloon. When the balloon explodes at a predetermined height, the radio widget floats down under a red parachute. The weather bureau used to offer rewards for the return of its machinery, but no more, because when a radio sonde hits the earth, nine times out of 10 it's junk. Even so people ship back about half the busted radio sondes, without rewards.

My weatherman undertook to explain the other apparatus deluxe and I'll pass along a sample bit of information about the recording pyrheliometer, which measures the heat of the sun and keeps a record of it in red ink. The weather bureau owns 60 of these and the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce is pondering purchase of another to let the folks know ahead of time, hour by hour, how badly their noses will peel. Science is wonderful.

So are snug shoes.

REVIVAL REPORTED IN CHAIN LETTERS

However, All To Be Mailed in Latest Is Money.

The perennial outbreak of chain letters is again reported.

According to reports on the latest ones in circulation, the letter itself is not mailed, only money. The letter of instructions lists 10 names and addresses and the person is required to purchase the letter, make two copies and sell these. A certain sum goes to the top name, which is deleted in the purchasers' copies. The one buying the letter adds his name at the bottom and so the chain continues.

A check with postal authorities revealed that no report had been made to them, nor have they had any complaints to date.

Addresses on the letter in circulation here include several central Ohio towns and started in Columbus.

Plans were made for the Grange quartet to enter the county contests to be held at Clarion school. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Augenstein and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fogle were appointed to serve on the refreshment committee at the next meeting. In charge of serving refreshments at the recent meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beckel and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Berringer.

CHOICE—is the keynote of today's enlistment opportunities in the Regular Army. If you've had prior service in any of the Armed Forces and sign up for at least 3 years you have not just two, but three choices of location open to you!

You may sign up for a job in Europe. Or, if you prefer, you may enlist with the understanding that you may stay in the U. S. A. within your own Army area for at least a year. Or, whether you're a veteran or not, you may choose assignment to one of the five famous combat divisions in Japan or Korea!

Never has the Army been able to help its men to chart their careers with such certainty. Never has any army given individuals such a free hand in the plotting of their destinies.

Qualified young men with or without prior service who enlist in the Army for at least 3 years can choose their branch of service from those still open.

Any qualified man with prior service who wants to enlist in the Air Force can be assured of an initial assignment to a specific Air Base (if there is a vacancy) either by applying in person or writing to that Air Base.

No wonder so many of America's finest are signing up every day. They know where they're going, they know the many opportunities open to them, they know that the high pay, valuable education, generous retirement benefits and excellent food, lodging and medical and dental care will keep worry from the door. How about you? Officers at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station can tell you if you qualify.

FARM EQUIPMENT GROUP FORMS ORGANIZATION

Officers Elected by Retailers Association.

An organization of retailers, the Marion County Farm Equipment Dealers association, was formed Monday night at a meeting held at the Fish Sandwich shop in Marion. Earl Scott was elected president; Ray Campbell, vice president; William H. Guy, secretary and treasurer.

A similar organization functioned here a few years ago but ceased to be active during World War II. Purpose of the group is for mutual benefit of the dealers, to iron out difficulties which may arise in the course of business, and meet together problems which may come up in handling equipment, or otherwise share common interests in their particular line of retailing, it was explained. It is solely a local organization. Plans are to hold meetings once a month, the next on Oct. 13.

Flock to Banner

Yesterday Britain, the last of the Big Five to mount the assembly rostrum, declared her position through Minister of State Hector McNeil and ranged herself solidly with the United States, who previously had been joined by France and China So the Big Five lineup on this issue is America, Britain, France and China versus Russia The other nations—barring the Soviet dominated countries—also have been flocking about the banner of democracy

McNeil, 37-year-old Scotsman who is a protege of British Foreign Minister Bevin, lined up his country with America in a dramatic address which was directed mainly to Russia This quick minded tough-talking young statesman — whose two-fisted methods are rather reminiscent of Bevin's—first hammered the Muscovites and then appealed to them to drop what he described as their unyielding attitude toward world problems The serious note of his speech was this sobering warning

"If the Soviet government considers that in all areas its power must be extended if it thinks that in describing any international situation its description must be accepted, then I say without qualification that not only will the United Nations be destroyed, but the unstable peace of the world will crumble and crash bringing us all the ranging hideous consequences to which Mr Vishinsky drew our attention"

Refers to Speech

McNeil was referring to the bitter speech made in the assembly last week by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky who charged America with war-mongering Yesterday by the way Moscow newspapers printed New York dispatches alleging that Vishinsky's address had caused "complete panic and bubbling wrath among 'American reactionaries' pictured as wanting war with Russia

Meantime the Marshall plan which Russia claims is designed to give America control of Western Europe, was being earnestly studied in both Washington and Paris without regard to Soviet opposition. The program developed by the 16 nations in the French capital is divided into two parts One is a long term proposition under which America would provide $19,332,000,000 through the years 1948-51 for general rehabilitation The other is an emergency call for food and some other pressing necessities.

These problems are now before President Truman's cabinet and the Council of Executives is faced with the task of getting Congress there is sufficient urgency to necessitate the calling of a extra session of congress in the immediate future Secretary of State Marshall has indicated that he believes such a session should be called.

BIDAULT BACKS U. S.—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, addressing the UN general assembly at Flushing N. Y., supports the American program as outlined by Secretary of State Marshall and hails Russian refusal to cooperate in the reconstruction of Europe. He sharply rejected the Soviet charge that the U. S. was seeking domination of Europe

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Brain Tumor

The brain is the great controlling organ of the body As the seat of thought and reason, it is the source of every human achievement But in addition to these higher functions, it also directs and controls every bodily function.

Thus when the brain is attacked by disease other parts of the body mirror the damage in various ways, depending on which area of the brain are affected For this reason it is easy to tell when a patient is suffering from a brain disorder It is also relatively easy to tell the part of the brain that is diseased

It is another matter, however—and a much more difficult one—to decide just what the trouble is For this the physician needs the greatest possible experience and knowledge.

One of the conditions which may affect the brain is tumor or new growth Symptoms of brain tumor develop very gradually, but steadily grow more pronounced and more numerous

The first sign is usually a slight awkwardness or disability or even paralysis Before this time however there are other symptoms, the most prominent of which is usually headache.

The headache of brain tumor may be restricted to one area or felt throughout the head. It usually comes on as a severe attack and is most in evidence after the tumor has grown large enough to increase pressure within the skull About 50 per cent of patients with brain tumor wait until this point to consult a physician. By this time, they are also likely to experience vomiting, but without any feeling of queasiness in the stomach.

Convulsions, disturbances in vision, loss of eyesight and impairment of the intellect are symptoms which may develop slowly but surely in untreated cases of brain tumor. The type of tumor and its location to a great extent determine the symptoms.

The speed with which the symptoms become worse gives some indication as to how rapidly the brain tumor is growing

An examination of the fluid from the spine is not always helpful in the diagnosis of brain tumor. However, an increase of the pressure of the fluid in the spinal canal is an indication that a brain tumor is present.

X-ray examination should always be made in patients suspected of having brain tumor. X-ray examination will not only show whether or not a tumor is present, but in many cases will also given an indication of its location

Treatment of brain tumor, of course, is surgical, and nowhere has modern surgery made greater advances

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. E. T.: For the last four years I have had a burning from the tip of my tongue down through my whole digestive system What causes this and what would help relieve it?

Answer: The condition which you mention is probably due to a nervous disorder However, it would be well to have a careful study made by your physician to determine whether or not some disorder, such as hyperacidity or ulcers of the stomach, is present Then treatment to relieve the condition can be prescribed.

Sometimes a burning of the tongue occurs in menopause between 40 and 60 years of age, the exact cause of which is not known X-ray treatments of the tongue relieve this condition in some cases.

Small Boy's Questions Throw Boyle for Loop

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—The information jags that modern children go on leave me feeling like a 1742 almanac with most the pages missing.

I was sitting in a room the other day when a small boy came in and began playing on the floor. After he felt he had ignored me for the proper length of time he looked up and said confidentially:

Hal Boyle

"Paracutin's crazy in the head."

"That so?" I asked, tar at sea.

"Yep, she blew her top in a cornfield."

"Well, I don't think I would play with her any more in that case."

"How can I play with her?" He said scornfully. "She's in Mexico."

"But—" I began tentatively.

"And anyway I hate her," he said decisively. "But I hate Vesuvius worse. She's the meanest of all. She kills people."

The idea began to percolate through my skull that we were discussing volcanoes.

Hates Mauna Loa

"I hate old Mauna Loa, too," the small boy went on. "When did she blow her top the last time?"

"I don't remember."

"Is she as tall as that old one in Iceland?"

"You mean pop-popcatepetl?" I said lamely, digging deep into my memory of grade school geography.

"She's in Mexico," he said, looking at me suspiciously. "I mean the one in Iceland—Hecla. How tall is she?"

"I don't believe I remember exactly—I guess about as tall as Etna."

"Oh, no she isn't, he said accusingly. "Etna's more than 10,000 feet tall. Why don't the people who live on Vesuvius move away? Don't they know the lava will burn them up?"

"Well,—"

How Thick Is Lava

"How thick is the lava anyway?"

"You mean how deep is it?"

"No, I don't mean how deep is it. How thick is it?"

"I guess that depends."

"What does it depend on?"

"On how thick it is!" I said wildly.

"Oh," he said, fully satisfied. "Tell me about Krakatoa."

"Wouldn't you rather hear about Jack and the Beanstalk?"

"No, tell me about old Krakatoa."

"M-m-m-m. Well—"

"You know, she's the one in the Pacific ocean," he said.

"She blew her top 17 miles in the air, and the ashes went all around the world."

"M-m-m. Yes, that's right. I believe that was old Krakatoa."

He looked at me with the age old disillusion of children toward adults who don't know the answers and pretend they do.

"Some of them are sleepy and some are wideawake," he said. "But I hate them all. You know the mountain I like best? Old Fujiyama in Japan. She's the smartest of all."

"Why?"

"Because she has snow all over her head and can stay cool," he said, as if any dunce should know that.

I was losing face so rapidly I broke up the conversation by asking the small boy to go fetch his father. As he reached the door, I asked:

"Why are you so interested in volcanoes?"

"You shouldn't call them volcanoes," he said pityingly. "Volcanoes isn't a nice word at all. They are just mountains that get excited."

Still chilled by that exit line, I demanded of the father later:

"Why don't you buy some books for that boy so he won't have to third-degree innocent strangers for his answers?"

"What would you suggest for a starter?" said the father. The New York public library? You know volcanoes are just a passing hobby with him. His real interest is the thermal dynamics of airplane engines."

Senator Terms Aid To Britain Fantastic

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24—Senator Clyde M. Reed called aid to Britain "fantastic" when "its miners won't even mine coal" and expressed opposition yesterday to another loan at present.

The Kansas Republican said in an interview he would not vote "another cent" for aid until Great Britain "puts its economic house, including labor, in order."

Reed will be one of an 11-man senate appropriations committee that will sail Oct. 8 from New York to visit Paris, Vienna, Germany, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Great Britain.

"It's fantastic sending Great Britain money, shipping it food and other commodities when its miners won't even mine coal," he said. "Coal is its heavy commodity. It keeps the industries going. Now Britain can't supply its own industries."

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

A DIFFERENT BRAND EVERY DAY! Yes, that's the way it was during the wartime cigarette shortage. That's how millions learned the big differences in cigarette quality . . . why more people are smoking Camels than ever before.

With smoker after smoker who has tried and compared, Camels are the "Choice of Experience"!

REMEMBER the cigarette shortage during the war? That was the biggest comparison test in cigarette history.

From day to day, people smoked whatever brand was available: more different brands than they would normally try in a lifetime.

The results speak for themselves. More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels. See how they suit your taste ...your throat. Let your own experience tell you why, with smoker after smoker who has tried and compared, Camels are the "Choice of Experience."

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU... T for Taste... T for Throat... That's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your T-Zone to a T.

Your USED FATS ARE Still Needed!

says KATHARINE FISHER, Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

We're still not out of the woods, by any means. There is still a fat shortage all over the world. Here is what Mr. Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, says about the situation: "It is still necessary to conserve every pound of used fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year." So... all of you women who have done such a marvelous job... please, keep up the good work. It's the only way we can beat the shortage. Remember, every pound of salvaged fat helps.

Robots Across the Sea

BY COINCIDENCE, the first trans-Atlantic robot flight pilot followed by a few days the death of Capt. Gustaf Erikson, skipper of the last great commercial windjammer fleet The old gives way to the new and the new is adaptable to even further development.

If a plane can fly the ocean without the crew performing any duties, it can fly the ocean without a crew That could mean an air bridge of robot planes carrying freight, passengers or, if need be, war material. The planes themselves could be missiles.

Pardon the Echo

THE chief justice of the United States, Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky, has told members of the American Bar Association that lack of faith in and respect for law and legal processes may pave the way for dictatorship in America.

Now just a minute, Mr. Chief Justice, where were we? Ten years ago, Franklin D. Roosevelt, piqued because legal processes were interfering with the things he wanted to do, slapped down the supreme court with an astonishing proposal for packing it with his own appointees.

His administration told a gullible public that "nine old men" were interfering with the New Deal. Its opponents replied that the New Deal was trying to substitute a government of men for a government of laws. They objected to this evidence of dictatorship in America.

Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky, later to become a member of the Roosevelt administration and eventually chief justice of the United States, was then a member of the house of representatives from Kentucky. Pardon the echo, Mr. Vinson, but what you're saying now was said 10 years ago—by others.

The Book of Words

THIS week marks the 100th anniversary of the agreement under which G. & C. Merriam, New England printers, have published the Webster dictionary. Lexicographers, scholars and editors gathered in Springfield, Mass., today to commemorate the tutelary proprietorship under which Noah Webster's brain-child has been enlarged and altered as the English language, or rather the American language, has changed with time.

Noah Webster was known only as an argumentative, prosy pamphleteer when he issued his compendious dictionary in 1806, followed in 1828 by his American dictionary of the English language, containing 70,000 definitions in his own handwriting. For a century the dictionary has been the sole product of the Merriams' print-shop. Webster's great work might have gone the way of Samuel Johnson's had not this pair of "obscure, provincial publisher-booksellers" taken it over and hired scholars and researchers to keep it up to date.

Some of Webster's simplified spelling was considered radical in his day but he took the lead in putting an end to such archaic usages as musick, draught, centre and colour. But his spelling of wimmin, soop, spunge and fether never won approval.

Merchant Aviation

THE president of the Air Transport association, Emory S. Land, has made a proposal that sounds like good sense. He thinks the government should do in peacetime what it would be forced to do in wartime—take responsibility for airplanes used in commercial aviation.

Mr. Land, who was war shipping administrator, has in mind a pool of some 5,000 transport planes, with commercial airplanes drawing on it according to their needs. Their incentive would be relief from the large capital expenditures entailed in the purchase of modern planes. Their responsibility would be operation of the planes in event of a military emergency. The government would have the advantage of a reserve of airplanes, of men to fly them and an aircraft industry ready to make replacements. The public at large would have the advantage of more security than the government might feel able to afford if it had to maintain an immobile reserve of transport planes. With an active reserve, planes could be kept up to date, furthermore.

Whoever attempts to show what's wrong with Land's idea had better be equipped with a better solution for the problem of having enough airplanes on hand for any emergency.

International Manners

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Vishinsky Exemplifies End of Diplomacy.

DIPLOMACY used to be the gentle art of saying whatever needed to be said without giving direct offense. The assumption was that wars can as easily be made by words as by deeds and the hope was that wars might be avoided in spite of the human habit of settling a difference by knocking out the opponent's teeth, by the urbanities of language, social intercourse and fine manners. When those who do not understand criticized the "tea-drinkers" of diplomacy, they did not realize what an important function they performed.

Just as international law has been abandoned by the proletarians who currently pass as statesmen, so have they completely discarded diplomacy instead of gathering about a table to find a way to peace, they have adopted the rostrum for a breast-beating exhibition of brutal rudeness, not to find a road to peace but to exhibit forensic skill in loud-mouthed ill-manners. Diplomacy has gone by the board and in its place has come the raucous shoutings of a barroom argument No treaty of peace ever came out of that kind of table-beating, although many wars were started by boasting and strutting.

Well Trained

The most perfect exponent of the new method is Vishinsky, who achieved his high position in Russian affairs by managing the liquidation of Stalin's political opponents through legalized murders called purges He was the prosecutor who drove the greatest heroes of the Russian revolution to make revolting confessions against themselves in the hope that by satisfying Stalin's insistence upon personal despotism without opposition, they might save their families.

It is this same Vishinsky who, casting aside even the semblance of public decency, rose in the United Nations forum and let loose lying attacks upon this country, its leading men, its newspapers, its people. Fortunately, he lied without glibness, he shouted without purpose, so that his intellectual dishonesty destroyed him.

For instance, among the American warmongers this advocate, who has done anything for his sole client, includes John Foster Dulles, an American devoted to peace, whose services to his country, as the author and manager of its bi-partisan foreign policy, saved Soviet Russia in those days when that country was literally eating our bread and using our arms of war to save itself. Had the war been a campaign issue in 1944, had what was known then by specialists been disclosed to the whole American people in the course of a political campaign, the crimes committed in our name, which gave Russia its opportunities to dominate so much of Europe, would have been impossible. It was Dulles, as Tom Dewey will admit, who took all discussion of the war out of the 1944 campaign.

Reasonable Criticism

My criticism of the bi-partisan policy is that it saved Soviet Russia so that such a person as Vishinsky can come to New York to insult us. The defense of that policy is that it gave this country the opportunity to labor for peace at the San Francisco conference, at the United Nations, and at the various councils of foreign ministers. When Vishinsky attacks Dulles, he bites the hand that protected his country in the hour of her greatest need—a peace-loving hand.

Similarly, he attacked the "New York Herald Tribune," a newspaper that while ostensibly Republican has given Soviet Russia all the breaks—even to the extent of bringing upon itself attacks by the American opponents of Soviet Russia who accuse this paper of being excessively friendly to Russia. And no one could ever suspect that newspaper of seeking a war with Soviet Russia, particularly as its columns have for years been available to those who have steadily sought to appease Soviet Russia.

Yet, it is this newspaper that Vishinsky selects to call a warmonger, to attack and denounce. But that is what he has usually done to his friends, most of whom lie in traitors' graves, put there by the ruthlessness of a police state whose prosecutor he was. It is a lesson for all those in this country who continue blindly and wishfully to believe that it is possible to continue to do business with a government that has made crass boorishness an idea of life.

Just a Minute

Oh, How We Girded for the Fray

The War Assets Administration has announced sale of 15,000 girdles and 38,000 garter belts.

After all, they can't very well beat those swords into plowshares.

First preference will be given to veterans and the WAA is reported confident the girdles will be snapped up by former WACS who are still fighting the battle of the bulge.

But the garter belts may be another story now that nylons are back. Besides, with the new ankle-length dresses, who'll ever know if milady's seams are crooked or her stockings loose and baggy??

I would suggest, in the event the WAA encounters difficulty disposing of these items, that they be delegated as war mementoes to communities requesting same. After all, there must be many a school or courthouse yard which doesn't deserve a tank or howitzer.

Preserved from the elements and properly inscribed, a GI garter belt would serve as a lasting reminder of the dark days when it was such a struggle for the nation to keep up its rayons and morale

Girls of the White House

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Grover Cleveland's daughter Esther, born Sept. 9, 1893, was the first child of a President to be born in the White House.

Susanna Adams, orphaned at 3 and adopted by her grandfather, John Adams, second President of the United States, was acclaimed as the "first baby in the White House" until the day she died at 90.

Margaret

Mary Emily Donelson, whose mother was a niece of Andrew Jackson and whose father, Maj. Andrew Jackson Donelson, was his secretary, was known as "Sunshine of the White House." Mary called the President "Uncle Jackson," and he had a shining lock of her hair put in the cornerstone of the U.S. Treasury building.

Maria Monroe, daughter of President James Monroe, was the first daughter of a President to marry in the White House.

Mary Abigail Fillmore, daughter of President Millard Fillmore, was an accomplished linguist and pianist but never broke into the headlines because of these talents. She died at 22.

Helen Taft, daughter of President William Howard Taft and sister of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, won a scholarship at Bryn Mawr, made her debut at the White House, and turned back the White House clocks to escape her 12 o'clock bedtime curfew so her young friends could continue dancing. A soft rose color was dubbed "Helen Pink" in her honor.

Colorful Alice

Alice, the dynamic daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, had a color named after her too, "Alice Blue." Known as "Princess Alice," she made goodwill trips to Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines, the Orient, the then-building Panama Canal.

Everywhere she went bands played "Alice, Where Art Thou?" She was an artist at mimicry, an expert at backgammon and she learned the hula in Hawaii.

Her wedding on Feb. 17, 1906, at the age of 22 to rich Senator Nicholar Longworth captured the national imagination.

Alice used to stand on her head for fun. She also smoked on train platforms, rode astride her horse instead of side saddle and was usually a half-hour late for all appointments.

Someone counted up once—in 15 months she attended 408 dinners, 350 balls, 300 parties, 680 teas and made 1,706 calls.

Alice's sister Ethel also made her debut in the White House, was popular but never got much space in the newspapers.

Wilson's Daughters

Eleanor and Jessie Wilson, daughters of Woodrow Wilson by his first marriage, both were married in the White House.

Next to Alice Roosevelt, Anna, the daughter of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, received the most publicity. During the latter years of her father's administration she was often accredited with being his closest adviser.

Now we have Margaret Truman, apparently the only Presidential daughter whose talents have glittered outside the East Room of the White House. Her Detroit radio debut and her Hollywood Bowl appearance have created for her an aura entirely her own.

The Good Investment

By JOSEPH ALSOP

ROME, Sept. 24—Here in Italy it is easy to foresee and describe the consequences of American inaction in the present world economic crisis. If we do not promptly meet the challenge, Italy's barely reborn freedom will meet an early death. And thus will be set in remorseless motion a chain of events which must end with political and strategic disaster, utter complete and irretrievable except by the terrible expedient of war, for us in the United States.

It is less easy, yet equally important, to estimate the effectiveness of the remedies which the United States can offer. Yet after exhaustively consulting all available authorities, this correspondent ventures the opinion that Italy is a presently good investment in this inevitably risky world.

Reams of statistics could be offered to support the statement that the Italians have already achieved a triumph in post-war reconstruction. In every ministry in Rome, they give you sheaves of figures—and very moving figures too — showing bridges rebuilt, transport links reopened, factories restored to production, and farm output brought up by the unrelenting labor of the Italian people. But it is immeasurably more convincing, since fallible human nature has a tendency to reject statistical proofs, to visit one of those areas in Italy which were scenes of almost total desolation hardly more than three years ago.

Salerno Comes Back

Salerno, the site of the bloody Salerno landing, was one such. Yet on that enchanted coast today there is hardly a sign of the outpouring of blood, the carnival of destruction, which so recently occurred. More ancient history is immeasurably more conspicuous. Like a dream of the glory of Greece, the honey-colored temples drowse at Paestum among the oleanders. Doomed house roofs and pointed windows in the little fishing villages recall the Saracen dominion. And in Salerno's cathedral, although the forecourt with its borrowed Roman columns still shows some signs of shell fire, the guide points happily to mementos of the great Pope Hildebrand and the superb mosaics of the time of Ferdinand of Henenstauffen.

Salerno and the countryside are restored again. The scars of war are cleaned away. The peasants labor to make ten square yards of arable earth by building ten square yards of wall to hold the land against the mountainside. The figs, the lemons and the oranges are fruiting in the sun on every terrace. The lights of the fishing fleets twinkle numerously in every bay at dusk. And only the empty resort hotels, vacant because none but Americans can afford to travel, hint of the catastrophe of bankruptcy that menaces western Europe.

Result of Industry

The lesson is extremely simple. The Italians work. They work in the factories of Milan and Turin, in the smiling Tuscan countryside, or on the sharp slopes of South Italy. By work they have got their country going again, so that industrial production has risen from 25 per cent of pre-war to 70 per cent, while farm output has increased from 60 per cent of pre-war to 80 per cent.

This national production must provide, however, for a population increased by nearly three millions since 1940, so that the level of individual life is still far below what it was in the pre-war periods. It is, in fact, something like an internment camp. The ration of 200 grams of bread a day provides the bulk of the individual Italian's sustenance. The trimmings—the oil, fish, fruit, cheese and scraps of meat — are obtained in tiny quantities at staggering prices on the black market, or often from relatives who own farms. It is because the level of life is still so low that the Communist party retains important strength.

Dollars Essential

And in raising the level of life everything depends on two things. There must be dollars from the United States, to provide wheat for bread, fertilizer for the long unfertilized fields and coal and raw materials for the factories. And we must somehow prevent the world economic collapse which would cut off the Italian export (as well as our own). Disaster will come in Italy if the dollars are lacking or world economic chaos is permitted to occur.

The specific needs of Italy are, moreover, fairly moderate in total. Securing wheat allocations from the world pool (a vital subject which must be dealt with later at greater length) will actually be harder than making the needed dollars available. In very brief terms, the Italian government has asked Washington for $250 millions to cover the deficit for the rest of this year, and for a descending scale of reconstruction credits for four years thereafter. These sums to put Italy on her feet amount to $525 millions for 1949, $410 millions for 1950 and $130 millions for 1951.

The amounts are considerable but they are also approximately one-forueth of the cost to the American taxpayer of another $20 billions annually for national defense. And the incomparable myopia of a Kenneth Wherry—surely an important case for politico-medical history—is needed not to see that tripling the cost of the national defense will be the first result of letting western Europe slip into the Soviet sphere.

Dahlias, named for the Swedish botanist Dahl, were first found growing wild on a Mexican hillside.

A Letter on World Series Tickets

TICKET OFFICE,
The Yanks or Dodgers,

GENTS:

I can't understand it. Ten days ago I was asking for a couple of series tickets and I still not had no answer. You was not even polite enough to reply and ask why I had not sent a certified check. Well I had two good reasons. First, I did not think that after being in your ball parks all season you would classify me as a character whose check must be bounce-proof. (How was I to suspect such a low regard for me when I got in all summer with nobody in the box office biting into my quarters or examining my dough under a microscope?) I must have been sold a thousand hot dogs without anyone once saying "lemme see if you are good for this first!"

• • •

Anyhow it never occurred to me, being a good friend of the club anybody did not trust me and I never seen no signs on the outfield billboards that read "This Ball Park Uses Only Certified Customers."

• • •

Well, like I say, I got no answer to my letter and a friend told me the trouble was I was sending in no breakfast food box tops, so I sent for 100 and sent them in but still no ticket to the series. I am still thinking it must be a mistake when a guy tells me the only way to get a series ticket is on the quiz program like Dough the Bank, Jackpot For A Day and Daddy Gets Rich or Nothing.

• • •

So I study up on literature, history, astronomy etc, and crash every studio all set to be the letter in the alphabet is first. A or B, whichever it is. I memorized Washington's Farewell Address and the famous character's first name was "Dizzy" was it Dean or Wallace?

• • •

I even got so I can name the largest lake in Central Park without the warning "No Loitering Please!" But what does it get me? I look all over for a quiz program which will give a winner one ticket to the world series instead of two sable coats, a Studebaker car, 100 pieces of china, a 38-foot cruiser, an electric icebox and 1,000 feet of choice waterfront property But it is no dice.

• • •

There must be a quiz show somewhere which is giving away a series ticket. They can't all be too dumb to know real values. I found one program which gives away $5,000.00 for right answers, but this would not buy a good seat and anyhow the check is not certified. (Ha' ha!)

• • •

I still wish you would write me and set me straight. Also if I send a certified check will you certify I get a certified view of the diamond and some certified baseball?

Yours,
OSCAR ("THE GRIPE") PURKEY

Chemists say a clue to a long life for man may have been found in the food of the queen bee. It subsists on a jelly rich in panthothen e in which are important vitamins. The queen bee lives 20 times longer than the male. Applied to mankind this would mean a life span of over 1,000 years. Sonny Boy

By TRUMAN TWILL

A sports situation worth looking into is that of the football coach whose pride and joy grows up and makes the team. We keep seeing pictures of these father-son combinations, and it's easy to imagine their conversation at breakfast the morning of the big game:

"Hi, kid, how ya feel?"

"Great, pop. Looks like meat on the table."

"No need to worry yet, son. Contract ain't up for renewal until the end of the season. We'll take 'em one at a time. What's 47?"

"O'Toole takes it inside of tackle from Formation B, I block out anything that leaks through the other side long enough to get O'Toole started then hit for the sidelines in case he gets loose and watch sharp for a lateral."

"O.K. Remember to keep him from getting caught from behind. If they lay a hand on the slewfoot from the rear today on that play you crack your neck, get me? Run through the down plays."

"Aw, pop, have a heart. I can run through 'em backward. Also the plays for second down, third down, fourth with less than three to go, the plays for inside the 20-yard-line, the line killers, the scorers, the fancy-Dans. Don't worry about me knowing the plays. Worry about those other guys on the team—the ones that have to help me help you look good so this family can keep on eating regular."

"Look, Buster, I can only worry about so many things, see. If I let myself think about that Kanswizski and his butter fingers my ulcer stabs me. I don't dare wonder how to spell Posdurgodak, for fear I'll have a nightmare about that dumb lug getting blocked on one of them slow-motion punts of his'n. That's why I got you out there, see. So I can concentrate on beating the little football into my own kid's skull and maybe I can get a break. We're supposed to roll up a score on these apes today, you ain't forgot that I hope. We're being watched Look, kid, not that I want to put the pressure on you but try to look good. I'm tipped off there'll be a scout at the game. I don't know who nor don't matter. What matters is that with me backin' you up from the bench and you remember' what I been telling you for the last few years maybe you'll get his eye and a chance to turn pro so I can buy a farm and get out of the racket before they hang me up for a tackling dummy. Keep your head. Keep those trap seals from being as dumb as they are. Watch my hat for signals in case of doubt. Call for time if you're in trouble. Look out for that butter-fingered Kanswizski. Tell that other guy to get those punts away fast. And if we have an unbeaten season, I'll think about lettin' you stay staying up till 10 o'clock after your next birthday. It's a promise."

"Gee, pop, thanks!"

How Editor Retires on Fortune

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO—Members of the San Francisco Press Club are wondering who put the story in their weekly club magazine:

"How did you do it?" inquired a reporter of a country editor who had just retired with $100,000 in savings.

The editor replied that it was because he had run his paper economically, worked early and late, kept away from the San Francisco Press Club domino and gin rummy games, and because an uncle had died and left him $120,000.

Radio Man Brings New Heiress Bride To Wife's Funeral

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 24—Radio disc jockey Frank Nicholson says he and his third wife had agreed last week to a divorce and when she died Friday evening, he and heiress Ann Cooper Hewitt "got married so quickly it would make your head swim."

Nicholson — "Rodeo Roy" to his radio fans — took Ann to Mrs. Nicholson's funeral at Sacramento late yesterday. At Nicholson's request the ceremony was held up a few minutes because the bridal couple were a little late driving up from San Francisco.

Nicholson and the 33-year-old Ann, the "sterilized heiress" who charged her mother and two doctors in 1936 with "tricking" her into an operation to deprive her of motherhood, were married late Saturday.

Less than 24 hours earlier Nicholson's wife, Gertrude, 37, died from what was diagnosed in a coroner's preliminary report as an overdose—200 grains—of a headache remedy.

Ann, who was divorced last Wednesday in Reno by John Whitaker, Nevada mining man, told reporters at an impromptu press conference she and Nicholson had planned to marry as soon as they could.

Mrs. Nicholson knew of her romance with "Rodeo Roy," she went on, and "we all agreed that I would marry Frank as soon as she withdrew from the scene. Well, she withdrew."

Nicholson and Ann sat in the rear of the chapel during funeral services for the bridegroom's late wife and viewed the body together. Nearby was a plain-clothes policeman whose protection Nicholson had sought because somebody, he said, had telephoned him that he was "going to be bumped off at the funeral."

Electric Line Built In 1918 Is Subject Of Ohio Legal Tiff

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24—Ohio public utilities commission officials hunted through the book today to find out if they had any right to say whether or not Mrs. Clara Warner should get $2,500 from the Ohio Edison Co. for an electric line built nearly 30 years ago to the farm of her millionaire steelman husband, the late Jonathan Warner.

Believed without precedent in commission records, the action was taken under advisement late yesterday after an all-day hearing in which witnesses casually talked about economics of the 1914-18 period, power companies with names long forgotten by all but the middle-aged of northeastern Ohio, and the pretentious establishment Warner built to use the 10 kilowatt line.

T. L. Jackson, Ohio Edison attorney, questioned PUCO jurisdiction, declaring at the outset that the case was brought to the commission largely because the statute of limitations would bar it from any civil court.

Mrs. Warner contended briefly the Youngstown and Sharon Railway Co. required her husband to pay $$2,226 July 13, 1918, for one section of the extension, and the Pennsylvania-Ohio Power and Light Co. required $204 for another section. They refunded a total of $165, she said, but "other persons similarly situated were not required to make any such payments." She asked the PUCO to force Ohio Edison to return the money with six per cent interest.

SAVINGS INCREASE OVER 1941 FIGURE

Loan Companies Report Show Big Gain.

That the people of Marion county were prosperous and thrifty during the war and post-war years is shown by the increase in per capita savings held by savings and loan associations in this county in 1947 as compared to 1941, according to Don L. Tobin, executive secretary of the Ohio Savings and Loan league.

At the beginning of 1947, savings and loan associations in this county had per capita savings amounting to $168.27 for every man, woman, and child, as compared to per capita savings in 1941 of $92.88, an increase of 101 per cent. Total resources of the savings and loan associations in this county as of Jan. 1, 1947, were $8,363,072, an increase of $4,192,992 over the pre-war figures.

Gains in savings were general throughout the state, and the total resources of savings and loan associations now stand at $1,535,147,158, which represents an increase of $672,656,151 during the war and post-war years. The per capita savings for the state of Ohio held by savings and loan associations are $222.24 for 1947 as against $124.86 in 1941, a gain of 78 per cent. Savings and loan associations in Ohio now have $995,888,424 loaned on homes; $510,329,618 in cash and government bonds, for an average liquidity of 33.25 per cent of the total assets. Savings and loan associations have general reserves maintained for the absorption of losses amounting to $125,391,680, or an average of 8.17 per cent of total assets.

The above figures indicate the huge amount of savings laid aside by the people of this county and of Ohio in savings and loan associations during the lush income days of 1941 to 1947.

A GOWN of heavy eggshell [illegible] by Miss Beverly Jean West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. West of 427 West Church street, for her marriage Sunday to Dever L. Haas. The couple repeated their vows at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the altar of the Central Christian church decorated with bouquets of peach and white gladioli and palms. In the center was a large bouquet of pink and blue [illegible] and flanking the setting were candles in two seven-branch candelabra. Pink and blue bows marked the pews in the center aisle.

The custom of open church was observed for the double ring ceremony, and the pastor, Rev. Eldred W. Johnston, officiated.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Madge Curl, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. Her selections included "Love's Greeting," Elgar, "Indian Love Call," Friml, "Little Star," Nevin, "Always," Berlin, "Because," D'Hardelot, "One Alone," Romberg, and the traditional wedding marches. During the ceremony she played "My God and I," Sergo.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with a fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline, and the tight-fitting sleeves ended in points over the hands. The scalloped skirt extended into a long train and her fingertip length veil was held in place by a halo of pearlized orange blossoms. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a purple orchid combined with white rosebuds and showered with white streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Betty Cramer of Marion. She wore a gown of blue net with a shirred bodice styled with a sweetheart neckline. Her corsage was a single gardenia.

The candles were lighted by Miss Virginia Snyder, also of Marion. She was attired in a pink gown with net trimming and wore a single gardenia corsage.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Haas of 202 Forest Lawn boulevard, was Dee McLain of Dayton. Seating the guests were Richard West, brother of the bride, and Dale Willis, cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. West chose a black dress trimmed in a fuchsia shade with black accessories. Mrs. Haas was attired in a wine dress with a nailhead design at the shoulder, and the skirt was designed with a drape effect. With this she combined black accessories. Each wore a corsage of red and white rosebuds.

A reception in the church social rooms followed the ceremony. The bride's table, decorated with pink and blue streamers and bouquets of pink and blue asters at either end, held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Serving were Mrs. Carl Schiffbauer, Miss Betty Cramer, Miss Virginia Snyder, Miss Barbara Burke and Miss Frances Haas, sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Haas was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1945 and is employed as a cashier at the Big Bear store. Mr. Haas, a graduate of Harding High school in 1939, served with the 15th Air Force in World War II for three and one-half years with most of that time overseas in Africa and Italy. He is a foreman at the Quaker Oats Co. plant here.

The couple are making their home at 342½ Olney avenue.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. P. West of Delphos, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steinhurst and Mrs. Maude Wareing of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roesch of Clearwater Beach, Fla., Mrs. Tillie Roesch, Miss Maxine Roesch, Mrs. Elmer Leathem and children and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roesch and family of near Iberia, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Guinther and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Guinther of near Martel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hager, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Roesch and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roesch of Galion, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell French and family of Shelby.

At the rehearsal party Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents, Miss West presented her attendants with earrings, and Mr. Haas gave his best man and ushers tie clasps.

Tropical Storm Moves North Through Georgia

By The Associated Press

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 24—A tropical storm, true descendant of the Carolina hurricane, moved northward through Georgia into the Carolinas today but reports of coastal cities flooding from torrential rains but generally easing no appreciable damage.

The center of the storm passed east of Savannah about 5 a. m. Three hours later, the weather bureau reported it was still inland about 40 miles north of Savannah, diminished in force and moving rapidly north, northeastward.

The highest wind velocity recorded here was 45 miles an hour last night between 9 and 10 p. m.

A new mass of cool air from Saskatchewan moved into North Dakota and Minnesota today, sending temperatures below freezing, and threatened to spread over the north central region with frost in some sections predicted tonight.

4TH DISTRICT VOTERS WIN COURT BATTLE

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Sept. 24—The Third district appellate court yesterday granted a writ of mandamus authorizing voters to register for the special Fourth district congressional primary Oct. 7 and election Nov. 4.

After Gov. Thomas J. Herbert set the election dates Sept. 9, Atty. Gen. Hugh Jenkins issued an opinion holding that registration lists in the district were closed Sept. 8.

The court held that Jenkins' ruling was based on a code limiting the time of registrations for general elections "and does not apply to special elections."

It said that registrations could be accepted in Lima and Piqua, the only two cities in the district requiring registrations, until Monday, Oct. 6.

Bruce Campbell, recently-discharged Lima veteran, brought the mandamus suit. He was represented by Atty. Anthony Bowers, president of the Allen County Republican Veterans club.

The election will determine a successor to Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio), who resigned to become a member of the federal communications commission.

ACCIDENT DAMAGES TWO CARS, HOUSE

Drivers Attempt To Avoid Collision but Fail.

Two cars were considerably damaged and the porch of a house at 865 Bennett street slightly damaged at 10 a. m. Tuesday when the cars attempted to avoid a collision at the Bennett street and Fies avenue intersection.

Daniel Schrall, 23, of 333 Waterloo street, driving west on Bennett street, reports that he pulled to the left at the intersection to avoid a collision with a car going south on Fies, driven by Mary Ellen Price of near Marion, police said. They collided anyway, and the Price car continued in a southwest direction across a yard and struck the house at 865 Bennett street owned and occupied by J. M. Roseberry.

The Schrall car was damaged in the right front fender, radiator, hood and light. The Price car was badly damaged in front. Miss Price suffered abrasions on both knees.

A car driven by James Eugene Sloan, 19, of 620 Delaware avenue, struck a boy crossing South Main street at Columbia street at 12 noon yesterday. The police report that Sloan, driving north on South Main street, said he had pulled around a car waiting to make a left turn to Columbia, when the boy ran out in front of the car and was struck. The boy, Harold Draper of 137 East Columbia street, said he was not injured.

REWARD

and she tries to keep up my spirits, but I don't know," he added.

The report of the barefooted girl in the Cleveland airport ties in in some respects with the disappearance of Roxie. It is believed a certainty that she had only one shoe at the time she disappeared.

The other shoe a wedgie for the right foot, was found together with a coin purse and hair ribbon at the Green driveway the morning following her disappearance.

Mr. Green said he still believed Roxie threw the articles from an old model car, which has figured prominently in the investigation, in an effort to attract attention

Visit of Mysterious Auto

The articles were found Saturday morning by Donald Green, 14, brother of Roxie. An old car had stopped at that same spot about dark the night before, about the time Roxie was last seen. Donald said the driver got out, walked around the car and seemed to be throwing something into the machine. Donald approached to within 20 or 30 feet of the machine and asked the driver if anything was wrong. Without answering the driver got back into the car and drove away. The youth reported the man was tall, with broad shoulders and that he was wearing a white sport shirt. Because of the darkness his features were indistinct.

A car resembling this one was heard to turn around on route 47 and head back east about the time Roxie hurried past the home of Mrs. Bertha Hetzer, who lives on Route 47 three-tenths of a mile from where the Lauer road runs north.

Other residents nearby report hearing a woman's voice from a car crying, "Let me out! Let me out!" at about this same time.

It is the belief of the father and investigators that if Roxie got into a car it was because she knew the driver or that she was placed in the machine forcefully.

Possible Course of Car

They can only speculate as to what happened afterward. They hold to the theory, however, that the driver, with Roxie in the car, turned north on the Lauer road toward the Green home, sevententh of a mile away.

The investigators have considered the possibility that Roxie became frightened and threw out her shoe, purse and ribbon as the car passed her home. The car then proceeded about 300 yards north and turned around in the driveway to the Harold Anderson home.

It is believed the driver turned around when he saw the articles thrown from the car and came back to retrieve them, only to be surprised by Donald Green. Neither Andersons nor Donald, however, reported hearing any outcry from the car.

MARKET LEADERS CLIMB UPWARD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—A number of stock market leaders climbed into higher ground after a period of early easiness today.

Neither the lower drift in initial trading nor the later improvement attracted a wide following, however, and the pace of dealings was close to the slowest in more than a week. Selected steels, motors and industrial specialties profited from the upward impetus, although many issues failed to participate.

Some of the bidding was attributed by brokers to belief that after absorbing Tuesday's selling without any substained speedy decline, the market was in position to make a comeback. Overnight news contained nothing to dispel doubts over international affairs or to clarify prospects for business profits.

On the upside were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Standard Oil (NJ), International Paper, Schenley, American Woolen, International Harvester, Air Reduction, American Smelting, Chesapeake and Ohio, Great Northern preferred, and Cerro De Pasco. Lagging were Brooklyn Union Gas (on a dividend deferment), Phillips Petroleum, General Electric, Kennecott, U. S. Gypsum and Dow Chemical.

Truman Considering Price Aid Measures

By The Associated Press

The problem of meat and other food prices, subject of conferences with Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, Agriculture Chief Clinton Anderson and other officials, is being given very considerable attention by President Truman.

Mr. Truman, giving no indication that he plans to call a special session of congress on the price situation, says he hopes to reach a decision soon on the best manner of approach to the price situation.

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Rep. O'Toole (N-NY).

Mr. Truman, who is to make a statement on world food problems "in a few days," a stopping recommendations of his food cabinet committee and was reported considering the possibility of a voluntary food rationing system at home and smaller grain shipments abroad.

The area of Palestine is about the same as the state of Maryland. In 1946 the population was estimated at 1,800,000.

Boston has more than 200 universities, colleges and schools.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself, eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

"Law Ridiculed"

In movies, comics and on the radio, the lawyer, the judge and the process of law often are unfavorably presented or treated with "grotesque inaccuracy, the Missouri lawyer reported. This tends to breed "contempt and disrespect" for the administration of justice, he complained.

"Whereas the doctor is almost always presented as a kindly, charitable and capable professional person, the lawyer is usually portrayed as cruel, selfish, tricky and unethical, Freund asserted.

He applauded the National Broadcasting Company for its recent order banning crime and mystery shows until after children's usual bedtime. James V. Bennett, federal director of prisons, who presided at the meeting, voiced hope that the other networks would follow suit.

But Freund, foresaw a long fight because "crime does pay the motion picture producer, the radio broadcaster, and the comic strip syndicates x x x we must overcome obstacles that are not governed ordinarily by good motives or a desire to act in good taste or completely in the public welfare."

He suggested these three alternative courses of action short of sponsoring legislation:

That the bar association appear before the federal communications commission to oppose renewal of a license, creating a test case on whether an excessive volume of crime broadcasts violates the "public interest."

That the movie and broadcasters' codes be examined with a view to injecting "outside" supervision.

That an independent commission survey the subject and make recommendations.

Bellefontaine Enacts City Admission Taxes

By International News Service

BELLEFONTAINE, Sept. 24—Bellefontaine joined the parade of Ohio cities enacting three per cent admissions taxes today but went a step farther than most by including hotel rooms, parking lots and billiard tables in its provisions.

The municipal ordinance will become effective Oct. 1 when the present state tax expires.

Collection and enforcement will be directed by the city treasurer.

OFFICIAL ARGUMENTS ON GAS TAX READIED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24—State Secretary Edward J. Hummel within a few days will start mailing to registered voters official arguments for and against the initiated constitutional amendment to restrict the use of revenues from motor vehicles license fees, gasoline and other motor fuel to highway and street purposes.

The amendment will be voted on at the November election.

The argument for the amendment, prepared by a committee of sponsors, declares Ohio highways are "behind the times and must be improved for post-war traffic" and "many streets are dangerous bottlenecks."

Another argument contends that the gasoline tax and motor vehicle license revenues originally were intended for highways and streets, but "temptation was too great and now millions of these special tax dollars are being spent for other purposes."

The argument against the proposal gives five reasons why the amendment should be defeated. They are:

That the amendment holds no promise of tax reduction and "unnecessary expenditures and misuse of the excess funds" will be encouraged.

That new taxes would be required in depression years to obtain revenues for poor relief, welfare activities and schools.

That the legislature would be placed "in a strait jacket and severely handicapped in applying the revenues of the state to the needs of the state."

That such revenues could not be used for other emergency purposes.

That the amendment is not needed because the legislature now appropriates from general revenues for highway purposes and for political subdivisions thus accounting for most of the $15,000,000 annually from liquid fuel taxes which now go to the general revenue fund.

Father and Son To Be Honored at Ceremony Tonight.

By The Associated Press

Among the other candidates are: Judge Raymond Younger, Celina, O., chairman of the Ohio state parole and pardons commission; Robert A. Stranahan, Toledo industrialist, and Justice James G. Stewart, former mayor of Cincinnati and now justice of the Ohio supreme court.

PRINTERS UNION SUED FOR UNFAIR PRACTICE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, today challenged the no-contract policy of the AFL Typographical Union as an unfair labor practice under the Taft-Hartley act.

A complaint by Denham against the International Union and Baltimore Local No. 12 will be heard by a regional examiner in Baltimore Oct. 6.

Jacob L. Edelman, attorney representing the Baltimore local, promised to battle the complaint "every inch of the way."

Denham accused the ITU and its affiliate of refusing "to bargain collectively in good faith" with 22 Baltimore printing firms organized as the Graphic Arts League.

The Taft-Hartley act, for the first time, makes unions legally liable for unfair labor practices and defines refusal to bargain as such a practice.

In order to get around a provision of the Taft-Hartley act which bans closed shops, the typographers have adopted a policy of posting in a place of employment the conditions under which members will work. The conditions may include a statement that they will work only with printers who are ITU members. No contract is signed with the employer.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT
Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress
Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.
Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.
Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. TOP EXPERTS CALLED HOME

Marshall To Confer with His Envoys on Needs of Western Europe.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Secretary of State Marshall is calling home his top experts on western Europe's needs for an intensified attack on the critical problem of what the United States must do to help—and when.

William L. Clayton, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, and Lewis W. Douglas, American ambassador to Great Britain, are due to return next week to report on the 16-nation Paris conference in which they had a direct hand.

Other officials who took part in the final stages of the Marshall plan conference on European recovery already are back.

From Rome, by way of England, Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's personal envoy to the Vatican, is en route home, presumably with first hand information on the views of Pope Pius XII.

The word of these travels coincided with these other developments:

▶It was learned Marshall has been told by his top advisers that failure has met all searches for funds which could be used to meet Europe's needs before congress can act on a long-range recovery program. The attitude of these advisers is that it must be "a special session or bust." The information presumably figured in Marshall's report to President Truman Monday.

▶The French and Belgian ambassadors submitted direct pleas for emergency food supplies to Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett yesterday. French Ambassador Henri Bonnet said his country must have an increased allocation of wheat from the principal exporting nations for the remainder of the year. Baron Silvercruys, the Belgian envoy, told reporters the "food situation is gloomy everywhere."

▶A special governmental organization of economic specialists has been set up to study the calculation of the Paris conference that western Europe must have $22,440,000,000 in outside aid—chiefly from the United States—to get back on its feet by the end of 1951. The group includes officials of the state, agriculture, commerce and interior departments assigned to some ten committees, each dealing with a specific subject such as food, machinery or coal.

KID CAMPERS WIN — Three prospective kindergarten pupils, with two of their determined fathers, set up camp at 5:30 a. m. on the lawn of Decotah Street school in Los Angeles, Calif., to be sure the children would be enrolled on the opening day. Five thousand parents were unable to enroll their children because of bulging schools. The fathers are (left to right) Russell Humphreys and Glenn Foster, who succeeded in enrolling Allen Humphreys, Stephen Foster and Karen Joyner.

6 Vet Organizations Ask Role in Ohio Suit

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24—Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Clifford today was to rule whether six additional veterans organizations would become defendants in a court action to retain $322,636 in legislative grants for veterans organizations.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled Veterans, the American Veterans, the United Spanish War Veterans, 37th Division Veterans association and the 83rd Division Veterans association have asked to become defendants. The American Legion earlier had become a defendant.

The original action was filed by Brunner Dickman, Cincinnati veteran, who asked the court to enjoin the payments as being unconstitutional.

Signers of the brief filed yesterday were Milo J. Warner, Toledo, Paul Kightlinger and Bruce Henderson of Warren, Joseph Carney, Cincinnati, Aaron J. Halloran, Springfield, Paul M. Herbert, Kenneth Little, Joseph Hague and Edwin M. Tuttle of Columbus.

QUAKER OATS LISTS DROP IN EARNINGS

Effect of Increased Costs Is Shown in Annual Report.

Earnings before taxes in The Quaker Oats company tumbled more than $300,000 during the business year ended June 30, 1947, while net earnings rose to $7,958,588 from $6,471,051. A branch plant of the company is located in Marion.

In the annual report issued today, John Stuart, Chairman of the board, pointed out to Quaker's more than 9,000 stockholders that the drop in earnings before taxes came despite a climb in dollar sales of more than $39,000,000 to the highest point in company history.

The increase of about $1,480,000 in net earnings, he pointed out was made possible by a tax reduction of nearly $1,450,000. Also helping to hold up net earnings was the transfer of about $300,000 in accumulated earnings from foreign subsidiaries—earnings not received during the preceding 12 months.

Dividend payments of $4,222,636, he reported, were made to holders of common and preferred stock. To the common stockholder, this represented a return of about 4.7 per cent on the average market value of his stock during the business year.

Inventories and commitments, Mr. Stuart said, are being kept as low as possible. "We just can't avoid taking inventory losses," he went on, "when prices begin working back to normal."

To illustrate the large increase Quaker must pay for raw materials, he quoted these 10-year average and June 30, 1947, prices: No. 3 white oats, from $.57-⅜ to $1.04 per bushel; No. 3 yellow corn, from $1.03½ to $2.08 per bushel, standard bran, from $35.04 to $55.50 per ton; and soya meal, from $42.98 to $88 per ton.

Because of those increased costs and increases in wages and salaries, Mr. Stuart reported that Quaker was compelled during the year to raise prices on some of its products—a step which the company had hoped to avoid.

SCHOOL FUND HIKE RULED FOR SALARIES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24—Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins today advised Erwin L. Clemetis, Defiance county prosecutor, that school boards must apply at least 75 per cent of the additional money they receive under the Daniels-Cramer school law to increasing teachers salaries.

The 75 per cent increase, he said, must be applied to the total 1946-47 teachers payroll, thus leaving the task of dividing the increase among the teachers to the board of education. It is not necessary to give each and every teacher an increase, however, so long as the total is used in increasing the teaching payroll, Jenkins said.

New teachers may be hired out of the increased allotment for each 30 additional pupils. If the increased attendance is less than 30 and a new teacher is employed, that teacher's salary must be provided from other funds.

New teachers employed to take the place of those who may have resigned, may participate in the increase, but that is optional with the board of education.

Truman Calls Meeting Of Cabinet Officials

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—President Truman summoned his cabinet to the White House at 2 p. m. today for the first formal session since he left for Brazil more than three weeks ago.

Cabinet sessions customarily are held on Fridays. There was no immediate explanation for today's meeting.

The cabinet members were at the White House for lunch with Mr. Truman last Monday.

The cornerstone of the Washington monument was laid July 4, 1848, but the shaft was not completed until 1885.

JEWISH HOLY DAY IS OBSERVED HERE

Special Services Held by Congregation of Israel.

Services marking Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement of the Jewish religion, were held last night and are continuing today at the Marion Congregation of Israel edifice on East Center street. These services conclude the 10-day period of the Jewish new year observance.

George Kleinmaier of Dayton, formerly of Marion, is conducting the services, and music is by a choir under the direction of Mrs. Mozelle Davis Pentlarge.

The Day of Memorial falls on Tuesday evening at sundown, Sept. 23, and will continue until sundown, today. It is a day of fasting and prayer for the Jews to stress the value of directing the daily conduct into finer and more spiritual channels. It is the conclusion of the 10 Penitential days during which people may find forgiveness for their sins of omission and commission.

During the services, names of the departed during the past year are recalled and the memorial prayer is given.

In 1908 Belgium took over the Belgian Congo which within a few years developed into one of the richest colonies of the world.

In each case, Lefty Joe Page stalked from the bull pen to tune up his soupbone with a one-inning stint

Page incidentally, equalled a long standing Yankee record set by Jack Chesbro in 1904 when he appeared in his 55th game in the nightcap

Brooklyn also started work with the series in mind instead of worrying about the Cardinals who finally have been eliminated mathematically Joe Hatten was given a five-inning outing against New York to gain credit for his 17th victory 6-1 Dan Bankhead tossed the last four innings after Hatten went out for a pinch hitter and most of the reserves were thrown into action

Even Jackie Robinson who was presented a new car television set, $500 watch and other gifts in Robinson day ceremonies yielded to Ed Stevens midway in the game

Cards Worried

St Louis a bit concerned about Boston's challenge for second money disposed of Pittsburgh, 8-4, despite Ralph Kiner's 51st homer The Cards now are two full games ahead of the Braves Kiner's blow put him ahead of New York's Johnny Mize

Chicago trounced Cincinnati, 7-2, in the other scheduled National league action

The American league second-place squabble warmed with Detroit showing a half game ahead of Boston by a 1-1 triumph over Chicago while the Red Sox split two with Philadelphia, losing 9-3 and winning 6-5 Hal Newhouser hooked his 16th win

Bob Lemon, Cleveland's hottest pitcher of the moment hoisted the Tribe to within a game and a half of the second place Tigers by a 7-1 night win over St Louis

JOE WHISLER NAMED STARTING O.S.U. BACK

Gets Nod at Full; Ollie Cline To See Action.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Sept 24 —Fullback Joe Whisler of Williamsburg was Coach Wesley Fesler's choice for the starting role against the University of Marquette when Ohio State Buckeyes open their football campaign Saturday

Fesler named Whisler for the spot yesterday but predicted Ollie Cline of Fredericktown who performed for Buckeye in 1944 and 1945, would see plenty of action Saturday and would carry much of the fullbacking load during the season

Defensive tactics were listed for today's drill after Fesler decided the fourth string did much too well with Marquette running attack yesterday

The Buckeye mentor expressed satisfaction with the offensive performances of the third string and decided to concentrate on defense

Commenting on his choice of Whisler for the starting role Fesler said

"It is only fair Joe should start since he was here for spring practice and was also a first stringer last year

"But don't think you won't see a lot of Ollie Cline in the game"

Fesler indicated his only questionable starter, barring further injuries, is tackle Jack Wilson of Xenia, still recovering from a strained shoulder

If Wade Kramer, assistant director of ticket sales predicted a crowd of 60,000 for the Ind hitter

Series Now Moves To Indiana With Cubs Needing 2 Victories

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs jumped to a two-game advantage over the Muncie Packers in the first round of the Ohio State league playoffs at Lincoln park last night by coming from behind to whip the Visitors 14-11 A crowd of 957 saw the slugfest

The two clubs move to Muncie tonight where the next three games are scheduled Should another game be needed they will return to Marion for the final two games or as many as are needed If the weather does not interfere, and should the series go seven games, they will return here Saturday night and Sunday afternoon

Lefty Jim Sabens has been nominated to hurl for Marion in an attempt to make it three straight over the Packers Wally Post is expected to toe the mill for Muncie

8 Pitchers Work

Eight pitchers four for each team saw service last night Jittis Lawrence, who started for the Cubs and gave up four runs in six rounds, got credit for the game when the Cubs took the lead with a big nine-run sixth inning Lawrence was relieved to allow Mel Nelson who walked, to bat for him in the big inning Elmo Comotti started for Muncie and held the Cubs in check until the big sixth inning He was socked for the loss as Marion took the lead while he was on the mound and never lost it thereafter

John Graney took up mound duty for the Cubs in the seventh but failed to last and Ed Witowski also succumbed to a big seventh inning by the Packers Bill Rosin finished the last one and two-thirds innings without giving up a run or a hit but walked two

Dick Mix relieved Comotti in the Marion sixth but gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Joe Nuxhall, the highly publicized but wild left hander failed to get the ball over walking six and allowing two hits while retiring only one batter Ray Trava finished for the Packers

With Muncie leading 4-0 in the sixth, Wally Rasmussen singled to start the Marion rally Dwight Maxhimer walked and after Burbrink flied out Shuford also walked to load the bases Gene Bobzean followed for the first Marion run

Forbes Singles

Jim Forbes then singled for two more Mel Nelson came up to hit for Lawrence and was purposely passed to load the bases When Roy Hollingshead was hit by a pitched ball the tieing run came in John Smith grounded to short but Tom Florence threw wild to the plate and two runs scored

Rasmussen, up for the second time in the inning walked and then Maxhimer singled but was run down trying for second on the throw home as Rasmussen scored Burbring doubled and Shuford walked for the second time in the round before Bobzean fanned to end the inning

Marion got five more runs in the seventh when Nuxhall walked six and allowed two hits The Cubs lost three runs in this frame when Ed Witowski hit sharply to center with the bases full and all the runners crossed the plate when Spike Foster let the ball get through to the fence in center After Ed pulled up at third on the error the ball was played to first and Witowski was called out for failure to touch the base thus losing three runs and a solid base hit

Muncie tagged John Graney for four runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth when Bob Montag the league-leading home run clouter hit No 16 over the left center field fence with two aboard

Return Matches Thursday at Armory

Two return matches (double main events) have been signed for the Marion grapple fans Thursday night at the Armory. The one ninety minute match is a return between Buck Weaver and Frankie Clemons These two took part in the tag match last Thursday and Clemons nailed Weaver in the one fall match and Weaver wanted a return to try and even the score The other return should turn out to be a blood match as it pits the tough Finn Pavo Ketonen with the equally tough Rufus Jones These two met in a match several weeks ago and it climaxed with a fight in the basement after the match Pavo is the one asking for a return In fact both matches should be rough as Clemons kind of man-handled Weaver last week A ten minute prelim at 8:30 between Fritz Barlow and Pete Copen will open the show Carl Markert & Lewis Cigar Store for your ringsides —Adv.

Lindell Does Good Job

Lindell, a converted pitcher, has done an amazing job filling in for the ailing Charlie Keller in left field this year. When Keller was sidelined with a back injury last June it was feared that his loss would prove a fatal blow to the Yankees' pennant chances, but Lindell stepped in and proved an able sub for the slugging Marylander. Big Johnny has been clouting with the best most all season and has driven in as many runs as the starter.

In the field the Yankee pitcher has nothing to be desired. Each can run and get them and each can throw with the best. DiMag is reputed to have one of the most accurate throwing arms in baseball while Henrich is one of the strongest. Lindell, too, can throw strikes to the plate. As a unit, the club has made only 91 errors in 894 chances for a .897 percentage. DiMaggio has made but nine misplays in 308 chances.

The fine all-around work of this regular trio has overshadowed the play of young Al Clark, a part-time outfielder acquired from Newark of the International league early in August. The 24-year-old rookie, in his limited opportunity, has banged the ball at a .380 clip and may see service in the series should something unforseen occur. Then there is always the chance that Manager Bucky Harris might play the percentage and install the left-handed batting Larry (Yogi) Berra in left field in place of right-hander Lindell whenever the opposition uses a righthander in the mound.

Keeps Outfield

Berra, normally a catcher, has played a number of games in the outfield and has shown that he knows what to do when a fly ball comes his way. He always has known what a bat was used for as evidenced by his .294 batting mark in 71 games. Among his hits are 28 doubles, three triples and 11 homers, two with the bases loaded.

The Dodger outfield, despite its lack of home run punch (Walker's nine is high), could have come close to providing a match for DiMag and company if Reiser, a great player before the war, could have escaped some of the numerous injuries he has incurred the past few seasons. The speedy Flatbush dasher, who never lets down a rolling thing as a concrete wall interferes with his catching of a fly ball, currently is being "rested" following his latest mishap—a twisted ankle. It was the same ankle which kept him out of the lineup last year when the Dodgers made their gallant but losing pennant bid.

Despite this and other injuries, Reiser still has been able to pace his mates with the stick batting .333 in 107 games. He also has outshone his mates in the field with only three errors in 344 chances. Walker, a veteran of 16 years in the big time, is another better than .300 performer with a knack of delivering a base hit in an important spot. He has driven in 82 runs to tie with Henrich and DiMaggio in that department.

Aging Legs Blamed

It is only his aging legs (he is exactly 37 years old today) that keeps him from getting the call over Reiser in right field. Walker's once spry, young limbs just don't what they used to be and on occasions, drives that he used to camp in his lap pocket, now fall safely for singles and doubles. His 10 errors are "high" among the first-baseers on both sides.

A real problem faces Boss Burt Shotton of the Bronks when it comes to selecting his third outfielder. All season long, the grey-thatched mild-mannered pilot has alternated Furillo and Hermanski with such gardeners like Ed Miksis, Arky Vaughan and Al Gionfriddo getting an occasional assignment in left field.

The other day, Shotton hinted that he would stick to the same alignment, using Furillo against left-handed pitchers and Hermanski or Vaughan against right-handers. Should Shotton carry out his intentions, it probably means that Furillo, one of the club's most consistent shooters, will see little or no action in the series since relief pitcher Joe Page is the only southpaw on the Yankee mound corps.

The Pennsylvania Italian's absence is bound to weaken the Dodgers both on offense and defense. The right-handed hitting Furillo ranks second only to Walker among his mates in the important runs batted in department with 86. Among his 138 hits are 25 doubles, six triples and six home runs. He is hitting only four points under .300.

Hermanski, like Furillo a second year man, admittedly is not in Furillo's class as a ball hawk. Carl possesses one of the finest throwing arms in the business and is the fastest man on the club with the exception of Reiser and Jackie Robinson. Hermanski's .279 mark in 76 games and 38 runs batted in makes Furillo's case that much better.

It is possible that the veteran Vaughn, a two-time batting champion and a converted third baseman, might replace Hermanski against right-handed pitching. In his limited opportunity to play, Vaughan has compiled a .321 batting average, highest on the team. Experience is also a big factor in his case.

Miksis and Gionfriddo should have a good front view of the proceedings from the bench.

4 Stockholders Sue Shovel Co.

$59,150 Judgment Asked by Owners of Preferred Shares.

Four stockholders of the Marion Power Shovel company filed suit in Marion county common pleas court Tuesday seeking an aggregate judgment of $59,150 against the company.

The stockholders are Lucille Schuckman, Sydelle Schuckman, Clementine Brasseure and Margaret Freed, all of New York City. Suits were filed by Maurice J. Dix, representing the law firm of Rocker and Schwartz, New York.

Largest claim is that of Lucille Schuckman, who seeks $45,500 representing 200 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock, par value $200 a share, plus accrued dividends at six per cent interest since April 7, 1947. Sydelle Schuckman seeks $10,237.50, representing 45 shares of like stock; Clementine Brasseure, $2,275 on 10 shares and Margaret Freed $1,137.50 on five shares.

The litigants claim the Marion Power Shovel company has refused to take up their stock at par value plus accrued dividends as of April 6, 1947.

According to their petitions, the stockholders aver that at the annual shareholders' meeting held April 7, 1947, a resolution was adopted by vote of the shareholders in the company effecting a reduction in the stated capital of the company from $5,011,186.05 to $3,860,050.

The petition alleges that by adoption of that resolution, rights of the 7 per cent preferred stock shareholders were substantially prejudiced. The petition further says that by taking away $1,151,136.05, the capital reduction, the earning power of that sum is deprived preferred stockholders and further that the capital reduction deprives them of a safeguard in event of dissolution or liquidation of the corporation.

The four stockholders also state in their petition that they did not vote in favor of the resolution and objected in writing, demanding payment of their shares at par value plus accrued dividends as of the date of the annual meeting. They charge the defendant company refused in writing to pay the amount demanded.

Bombed Nagasaki Reports Increases In Yields of Crops

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Sept. 24 — Summer crops in atom-bombed Nagasaki have shown increases of from 50 to 300 per cent over the normal yield, Takeo Furuno, Nagasaki prefectural agricultural expert, told Kyodo news agency today.

He said increased output, with some frenk developments, was noted in all food plants except dry rice and lentils, which had not matured.

The wheat crop, Furuno said, was about twice normal and the cotton crop three tmes the average. Sweet potatoes planted at the end of May were ready for harvesting at the end of July, he explained.

Pumpkins, sugar beets, tomatoes, eggplants and similar produce shower a 50 per cent increase over previous production, the agriculturist reported. He said some pumpkins showed this development: the skin developed into a leaf and then a bud and finally became a second pumpkin.

Furuno, who is conducting experiments in the center of the blast zone just outside Nagasaki city, remarked that "some radioactive elements still remain in the earth."

Deserting Husbands Held Liable for Half Pay in Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24 — A "joker" that may oblige deserting husbands to pay their wives 50 per cent of their earnings in Pennsylvania boomeranged today out of the state's new community property law.

The hotly contested measure, passed by the Republican-controlled legislature in June, was designed to permit a husband and wife to divide the family income equally in reporting it for federal taxes, thus enabling them to take advantage of lower rates.

Republicans claimed the act would save Pennsylvania married couples $100,000,000, but Democrats criticized it as "most ridiculous" and an attempt to "defraud our federal government." Ten other states have similar laws.

A bolt fell from the blue yesterday in the decision of a rural judge that under the new law, a miner charged with wife-desertion must pay her one-half his $250 monthly earnings for support of herself and a child, rather than a court-fixed amount as in the past.

The decision, which startled metropolitan attorneys, was issued by Judge J. I. Hook at Warnesburg. The judge ruled desertion by a husband does not deprive a wife of a half-interest in his property.

Up to the present, deserted Pennsylvania wives were a [illegible] about one-third of their h[illegible] income, plus additional [illegible] for each child, depending [illegible] husband's ability to pay.

Allegheny County Judge [illegible] Gunther at Pittsburgh ex[illegible] belief some other judges [illegible] follow Judge Hook's precedent.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"YOU'RE not using the sense God gave a donkey," Dicky told me, and I shut again the hall door I just had opened, for his voice was urgent.

"Why don't you tell Noel that you didn't want Mary to know he was seeing either you or Dr. Twitchell and that therefore you took the doctor up to my studio to wait until you called him? Say I'm dead, or gone fishing, or have smallpox—any little excuse you can think up for my absence. And when you call the studio, Dr. Twitchell will answer and I will have shown him how to get back down here without my escort. I'm sure he'll be able to manage it," he finished, with a grin at the old physician.

His raillery heartened me, and I gave him a comradely smile.

"Thank you very much for your invaluable suggestions," I told him demurely. "I shall follow them meticulously."

"Don't trip on your syllables going out," he admonished, and then I was on the outside of the door, and hurrying to my own study.

When I reached it, I mechanically smoothed my hair and used my powder puff. Then I sat down in my most comfortable chair and tried to prepare myself as best I might for my imminent interview with Noel.

I did not deny to myself that I was in that distressing state known as a "blue funk." So much depended upon making the right approach to Noel, and still more upon the decision which finally would be his.

Must Not Guess

He must not guess that Mary had spoken of his attitude to me, and yet I must say something which would induce him to tell me of it himself. I buried my head in my hands and tried to think of some beginning which would not offend him.

I could have spared myself the trouble.

When Noel finally arrived, he was in a most talkative mood, ready to comment upon any subject from the weather up or down.

"You're sure Mary is all right?" he queried, anxiously even before I greeted him.

"Absolutely," I assured him, and with a sigh of relief he settled himself in the chair I indicated.

Especially Happy

"She is especially happy," I went on, remembering that it was permissible to tell him of Mary's studying during the day, "because she tested her memory on her lines today and found that it is functioning beautifully. Not quite with the perfection of a year ago, but with the distinct promise of regaining that goal in a week or two."

His frown was portentous, and I braced myself to deal patiently with whatever irritating thing—I knew I was going to be annoyed—he might utter.

"Why should she bother studying those lines?" he asked. "She isn't going to appear on the stage any more."

I called all the histrionism I possessed to my aid.

"Isn't going to appear on the stage any more?" I gasped. "What on earth do you mean?"

Then, before he could answer I pretended to remember something.

"Then that is what she meant today," I said, "I didn't understand, and I didn't want to question her, so I summoned you instead. I didn't dream she meant anything permanent, if at all. But what you are saying is terrible!"

I was fairly babbling now purposely. I meant to give Noel the opportunity to be the competent superior male dealing with a fluttery feminine brain.

"What is terrible about it?" he asked loftily. "But, first, what did she say that you didn't understand?"

I waited an instant before I answered him, remembering the necessity for wariness.

Nothing Definite

"She didn't say anything definite; gave me no direct confidence," I replied slowly. "But from something she said about possible parenthood I couldn't help feeling that she was hoping she could have a child in the near future. And then she made some remark to the effect that motherhood and a career didn't mix.

"Naturally," I went on, "I didn't want to question her, or even to encourage any more comments on a subject so calculated to upset her emotionally. So I said nothing to her, but telephoned you instead, because it is really necessary that I find out what she meant."

His eyes had been curious, but friendly, when I began to speak. But when I had finished, they were cold and hostile.

"And may I ask," he said with heavy irony, "just why the thought of having a child, for which she has longed for years, should upset her emotionally?"

MAKING NATURE HELP

By The United Press

SILVER CITY, N. M.—In early days in New Mexico, Silver City was 700 miles from the source of civilization's supplies in Colorado. All provisions had to be freighted by ox team. As the story goes, the teamsters would plant crops along the road on the way down to Silver City, and gather and eat the food on the return trip.

The last part of the wall in Wall Street, New York City, was removed in 1699.
